

Sukhoi 27A

View this kit on the website.

First brought into service with the Soviet Air Force in 1986, the Sukhoi - designed with the NATO code name 'Flanker' - is designed as an air defence interceptor. Sukhoi was first brought to the attention of the US Intelligence Services in March 1979 when tests of the new combat aircraft were picked up by a satellite of the Ramenskoya test centre. About 100 Flankers were in service by early 1988. The aircraft's armaments include AA10 Almo S.AR/18 missilies, AA11 close range missiles and 30mm cannon. - Taken from the 1990 edition catalogue
